Guidance Notes

- Reassessment/Retake

If you have failed some modules you may be required to be reassessed/retake those modules for the purposes of progression/award. Any module with an 'R' is a reassessment/retake mark. Any component marked with an asterisk (*) is the final component.

You are also permitted to be reassessed on any modules that have been compensated (i.e. modules that you have failed but for which you have been awarded the credits) in the next designated reassessment period (as long as you have not exhausted the number of attempts permitted by the Regulations). Furthermore you are permitted to retake any modules that have been compensated in the next academic year (as long as you have not exhausted the number of attempts permitted by the Regulations). You should note that reassessments/retakes may involve stepping off the programme, i.e. not progressing.

If you are required to re-take failed modules next academic year and all of the modules take place in semester 2, you should register from week commencing 26th January 2015. Your tuition fee will be calculated on a pro-rata basis (i.e. as a proportion of the full fee according to how many credits that you are retaking are worth).

Please note that reassessment/retaking will only, at best, result in a capped mark of 40% (Undergraduate) or 50% (Postgraduate).

- Compensation

Final year/stage students will be assumed to be accepting the compensation and awarded qualification unless they notify their School Office as soon as possible; for academic year 2013/14 the deadline is 27th June 2014.

Non-final year/stage students will be assumed to be accepting the compensation and progressing to the next year/stage of their programme as indicated above unless they notify their School Office by 11th July 2014.

- Appeals

Students have the right to appeal against any decision of the Board of Examiners. If you wish to lodge an appeal, you must do so by submitting your appeal in writing, using the 'Academic Appeals Proforma', within 10 working days of the date on this letter, to the Senior Assistant Secretary, Governance Services Unit, University of Salford, M5 4WT. The Appeals Procedure and Pro-Forma accessed from: <http://www.mystudentinfo.salford.ac.uk/page/appeals>

Please note that being dissatisfied with your results does not constitute grounds for an appeal.

- Further Information

In all cases if you do not understand any part of this letter it is your responsibility to contact your School Office as soon as possible.
